

WASHINGTON, DC – In an effort to make the White House summit on health care reform as accessible as possible to Second Congressional District residents, Congressman Joe Courtney announced that constituents may watch the summit live online on the Connecticut lawmaker’s website.

Individuals may visit <http://courtney.house.gov/choice> on Thursday, February 25 at 10:00 AM. A live White House feed has been embedded on the site so that constituents may follow the discussion throughout the day at home or at work.

“In this era of greater transparency, which I fully support, I want to make sure that eastern Connecticut’s residents may continue to participate in this historic process.”

“For more than a year, I have travelled eastern Connecticut seeking input from individuals, families, medical professionals, and small business owners, who are most directly impacted by rising insurance and medical costs.”

“We have a health insurance system that is broken and working families and small businesses are paying the price with double-digit premium increases. We need to address this problem now.”

Congressman Courtney urges residents to comment on the health care summit following its conclusion by sending message to <http://courtney.house.gov/email> .
